Diab labs. @elter.hicham

FREE GUIDE

The 7-Day Story Plan

Reels bring the followers. Stories turn them into paying clients. Here's what to post every day for a week.

Why Stories matter

Reels reach people who don't know you yet. Stories are where people who already follow you decide to trust you.

Most coaches put all their energy into Reels and never talk to their followers again. That's where the clients are lost.

The rules

- 3 to 6 Stories a day is enough.
- Real beats polished. Phone, natural light, your voice.
- Every day has one goal. Don't try to sell every day.
- Use interactive stickers (polls, questions, sliders). They boost reach.

Day 1: learn their problem

Post a poll about the main problem your clients have.

> "What's harder for you right now? A) Getting views B) Turning views into clients"

Day 2: answer questions

Open a question box. Answer 3 of the questions on video the same day.

Day 3: behind the scenes

Show real work. Your desk, a session prep, a draft, your process. People trust what they can see.

Day 4: a client win

Share a result or a message from a client (with permission, names removed). One line of context: what were they stuck on?

Day 5: teach one thing

One quick tip in 3 Stories. Problem, fix, example.

Day 6: you

Something personal. Why you do this work, a lesson, a bad day you learned from. This is where people connect.

Day 7: the soft offer

Tell people how you can help, plainly.

> "I have 2 spots open this month for coaches who want their content to bring clients. Reply WORK and I'll send you the details."

Then repeat

Same structure next week, new content. After 4 weeks, check which days get the most replies and do more of those.